Choosing Hope Is Hard

Sheila Quirke, Freelance Writer

Everyone lives with challenges. Sheila's greatest challenges revolved around her daughter's cancer diagnosis, treatment, and death. Her daily practice of "choosing hope" helped her remain present during those difficult days. She will talk about what choosing hope means for her and how it is now more important than ever.

Following the service there will be a "Sundae Sunday" Ice Cream Social - All Are Welcome!

Making Connections & Covenants

Rev. Woulfe & the Covenant Group Committee

Whether you are new to ALUUC or have been active for years, we all can appreciate the deep human desire to be heard by others and to feel connected with one another. In this service, we will offer an opportunity to appreciate the dynamics & benefits of joining a Covenant Group.

A Time, A Place, A People: The Spirit of the Labor Movement

Susan Solon, Member International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers

The Labor movement's past and the present from a personal perspective. Susan's talk will be grounded in the rust belt and will be sad, anthemic, and rock-n-roll! And it will end on a high note.
