Who are the Elect?

Rev. Martin Woulfe

On the eve of the national elections, let us consider what our religious ancestors meant by the word “elect” and consider what roles religion plays on politics – past and present.

There will be a “Change for Change” Sunday collection.

Thoughts on Healing

Rev. Martin Woulfe

One model of ministry that rings true for me is the minister as “wounded healer.” Where does this construct come from, what are its implications, and how does it manifest itself not only among clergy and congregations, but also within the larger community, especially in the aftermath of a bitterly contested national election?

A Special Congregational Meeting will follow the service.

Expressing Gratitude, Great & Small

Rev. Martin Woulfe and Paula Brayden

On this Sunday, we will share a litany of thanksgiving, recognizing those people, places and things for which we are grateful; Rev. Woulfe and Paula Brayden will add a few reflections of their own.

Science of Happiness

Paula Brayden

What is happiness and what is it not? People have agonized over this question for eons. Recently science has begun to weigh in on this debate. Our intern minister, Paula Brayden, will discuss in depth the science of happiness.

The Spirituality & Poetry of William Butler Yeats

Rev. Martin Woulfe

Every fall, I am drawn to revisit the poetry of a famous poet – Emily Dickenson, Carl Sandburg, Walt Whitman, Edgar Lee Masters, and Vachel Lindsay, to name a few. On this Sunday, we will explore the spiritual and poetic insights to be found in the work of William Butler Yeats, author of such masterpieces as The Second Coming, Sailing to Byzantium, and When You Are Old.

There will be a “Change for Change” Sunday collection.
